

HEALTH SURVEY IN SCHOOLS IS BEGUN

Special Committee Appointed by L. N. Hines, State Superintendent, in Charge of Work.

FOR PROTECTION OF PUPILS

T. A. Mott, City Superintendent, Has Not Received Details of The Proposed Program.

The task of investigating the public health situation in the public schools throughout the state has been started by a special committee appointed by L. N. Hines, state superintendent of public instruction. T. A. Mott, superintendent of the Seymour schools, stated today that he had been informed that such a movement would be inaugurated soon but that the details of the program to be followed had not been forwarded to him.

The matter of investigating the health conditions in the public schools was first brought to the attention of the state board of education by Elmer C. Jorman, superintendent of schools in Greensburg. According to Mr. Jorman, the demand for some sort of a program which would lift to a high status the health of school children through proper care and early training along health lines, is greater than the public seems to realize. Instances were cited where many cases of disease among school children could have been checked, with a healthful youthhood resulting, had it been possible to have the child properly safeguarded against the ills common from contact.

Suggestions were offered by Mr. Jorman which could be carried through if the laws affecting the public health problem were properly written. A trained nurse, Mr. Jorman stated, who would be qualified to teach or a teacher educated along lines of child hygiene would be one way of meeting the situation, not only in Greensburg, but in every city and county throughout the state. Another suggestion was that two departments could be maintained in state schools, one for training in physical culture and the other for instructions in personal hygiene.

Much thought has been given to the fresh air question for the purpose of earing for children with lung weaknesses, and it is believed that if the proper amount of funds can be secured through the activities of the Tuberculosis Association of Indiana, provisions can be made for further checking the spread of the dread disease.

The plans of the board of education will have hearty co-operation according to E. Q. Laudeman, executive secretary of the Indiana Tuberculosis Association. This is one of the problems that has held the interest of the association for some time. Mr. Laudeman will render all the assistance which can be afforded by this organization toward crushing out the menace. The $270,000 fund will be raised through the sale of 27,000,000 Red Cross Christmas seals by the association, will be used to place a public health nurse in every community throughout the state.

17 ORDERS OF FOODSTUFFS ARRIVE AT POSTOFFICE

Remainder of Seymour's Allotment of Government Supplies Expected to Arrive Soon.

Seventeen of the orders placed with Postmaster Allen Swope several weeks ago for government foodstuffs have arrived at the local postoffice and are delivered. Postmaster Swope expects the remainder of the orders to be filled and delivered within the next few days.

Those who have received their orders are apparently satisfied inasmuch as no complaints have been registered with the local postoffice authorities. It is understood that some of the orders placed through the Seymour postoffice cannot be filled as the government stores ran short on some of the articles before local orders were received at the government store at Chicago.

COMMUNITY LIFE IMPORTANT ISSUE

Thomas Brooks Fletcher Delivers a Forceful Address on Subject, "The Martyrdom of Fools."

DUTY OF THE INDIVIDUAL

Speaker Urges Greater Interest in Public Affairs—Protection of Youth is Essential.

That every community ought to take an invoice of itself and see what it is doing in the interest of its boys and girls, was emphasized by Thomas Brooks Fletcher in his address on "The Martyrdom of Fools," which he delivered at the First Methodist Episcopal church Friday night as the first number of the winter lyceum course to be given by the City Ministerial Association. Mr. Fletcher spoke with a directness and force that carried conviction. He devoted his time to problems which confront every community and his arguments commanded the closest attention.

Mr. Fletcher divided his address into two main subheads—the martyrdom of fools for what they do and the martyrdom of fools by what they do.

Discussing the first sub-division he pointed out that every great thinker, inventor and scientist is criticized and condemned when he offers any new idea, regardless of its worth and value. He referred to the criticism made of the Wright brothers when they first proposed a lighter than air machine, those who advocated nationwide prohibition.

HENRY R. FOSTER DIES AT HOME NEAR UNIONTOWN

Son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Foster Expires After Illness of Three Days—Funeral Sunday.

Henry Robertson Foster, aged eighteen years, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Foster, of Vernon township, died at 10:30 o'clock Friday night following an illness of three days with diabetes and a complication of diseases. The young man had many friends in this city who are shocked to hear of his death. He attended the Shields high school after completing the common school course in Vernon township. He reached the Junior class but two years ago was compelled to give up his school work on account of failing health. Later he went to Battle Creek where he entered a sanitarium in hope of regaining his strength.

The young man would have been nineteen years old on November 22. He was born in Vernon township. He was of a congenial disposition and had many friends among his older acquaintances as well as among young people of his own age. He is survived by his parents, one brother, Charles, and three sisters, Mary, Alice and Bernice.

The funeral will be held from the Uniontown Baptist church at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, the Rev. F. A. Hayward, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, officiating. Burial at the Uniontown cemetery.

TWO FINE HORSES ARE RUN DOWN BY PASSENGER TRAIN

Animals Belonging to G. C. Borchering, West of City, Hit by Early Morning Train.

Two fine horses belonging to G. C. Borchering, a farmer living two miles west of the city, were run down by a Baltimore & Ohio passenger train early today and were so badly injured that they had to be killed. In some manner the gate to the barn lot was opened during the night and five head of horses walked out on the highway and onto the railroad tracks.

When Mr. Borchering awakened this morning he noticed the horses were out and started search for them. He found three of them grazing near the crossing while the other two were lying on the tracks west of Hangman's crossing. He believes they were hit by the early morning eastbound express train. No one saw the horses hit, so far as known.

CIRCUIT COURT TO CONVENE MONDAY

Several New Cases Filed During The Last Week With County Clerk Willard Stout.

FEW ACTION SET FOR TRIAL

Both Grand and Petit Juries Instructed to Report at Court House Next Wednesday.

Several new cases have been filed with the clerk of the Jackson circuit court which adds to the already large docket for the October term which will convene at the court house in Brownstown, Monday, October 13. The docket is the largest for several years and the court will likely not find time during the five weeks' term to dispose of many of the cases that are pending.

A number of cases carried over from the May term of circuit court have been set down for trial during the coming term. Judge James A. Cox closed the September term of the Lawrence county circuit court today preparatory to opening court in this county.

Several minor cases that will take but little time for disposal will likely be called by Judge James A. Cox Monday. Monday will be motion day and the judge will hear motions by the different attorneys concerning cases which they have filed.

Both the grand and petit juries have been instructed to report for duty on Wednesday, October 15. The petit jury will in all probability be kept busy during the term as many cases filed will be tried before a jury. It is understood that Prosecutor S. B. Lowe has a number of matters he will place in the hands of the grand jury for investigation.

Monday will be a busy day in circuit court as practically all of the attorneys of the county will be present in the interest of different cases that they have filed for their clients. It is likely that a number of new cases will be filed by the attorneys on that day also as some prefer to file them in person in preference to mailing them to the clerk of the court.

The bar dockets for the term have been printed and will be distributed to the attorneys and court officials Monday.

COLD WEATHER TO STOP MUCH WORK

Many Construction Contracts in Progress Here Cannot be Completed Until Spring.

YEAR OF ACTIVITY IS SEEN

City Contemplating Improvement of Several East and West Streets Early in Coming Year.

The arrival of winter weather will halt much construction work in Seymour and this vicinity. There has probably never been a time in the history of the city when so many improvements of a permanent nature have been either contracted for or are in progress and much more work is being planned for early next year. Indications now point to one of the busiest years in this respect that this city has ever known.

The work that is contemplated by the state highway commission in this vicinity will mean the employment of many men next year. Two contracts have already been awarded by the commission in this vicinity. The High street road is being built and the Jonesville road contract will be started within a short time. The contractor expects to have practically all the culvert work out of the way before cold weather comes. Some of the roadway may also be laid. The contract will be started at the Bartholomew county line and will proceed southward. Neither the High street road nor the Jonesville improvement can be completed this fall and will be carried over into the early spring.

The improvement of the Seymour-Dudlevtown road is about finished and will be out of the way before the arrival of winter weather.

The highway commission, it is said, expects to award one and possibly two more contracts in Jackson county next April. The survey for the road between this city and Crothersville has already been completed and the specifications are being prepared. The road between this city and North Vernon will also be built next summer, if the present plans of the commission are carried out.

Besides the highway construction, considerable street work is contemplated by the city council early next year. A movement has been on foot for some time to pave all the east and west streets between Ewing and Walnut streets so that the concrete roadways on those streets will be connected. This work was considered this year, but was postponed on account of the extensive rural highway work in this immediate vicinity and the resultant shortage of labor. The council, it is said, is planning to order the improvement of the cross streets during the winter so the contracts may be awarded and the work started early in the spring.

It appears that the movement to construct a new sewerage system here will materialize and this contract will be one of the largest to be awarded here in recent years. The

PLANNING RAIDS ON LIQUOR STOCKS

Prohibition Enforcement Law Will Become Effective Throughout Nation in Ten Days.

FORMER LAWS INADEQUATE

Government Agents Reported The Places Where Illicit Supplies Have Been Collected.

Washington, October 11—Wholesale raids upon liquor dealers were being planned by the government today.

Within ten days the prohibition enforcement legislation probably will be law. It makes illegal the sale of liquor containing more than one-half of one per cent. alcohol. This puts into the hands of Attorney General Palmer the power for which he had been waiting before prosecuting illicit liquor dealers.

Reports on liquor sales are being made by government agents now, it is learned. When President Wilson signs the bill the raids are expected to start. If the president does not sign within ten days the measure automatically becomes law.

It is known here that in many cities all varieties of liquor have been freely sold, despite the war time prohibition law ban, simply because the existing law was inadequate. Enforcement of the new prohibition law will make this punishable by $5,000 fine and two years' imprisonment.

The outlook for lifting the war time prohibition ban before constitutional prohibition goes into effect in January, appeared dim today.

THREE AVIATORS REMAIN IN TRANS-CONTINENTAL RACE

Two Eastbound Aviators Apparently Ahead of Maynard, Flying Westward.

By United Press

New York, October 11—The trans-continental air race had narrowed down to three contestants this afternoon with the two eastbound aviators apparently ahead of their westbound rivals. Major Spatz and Lieut. Kiel eastbound aviators, arrived in Buffalo, 328 miles from New York shortly before noon. Capt. Smith, who has been setting the pace for Spatz and Kiel was forced to land seven miles from Cleveland in a heavy rain. His propeller was smashed and he dashed to Cleveland in an automobile for repairs. Lieut. Maynard, the westbound "sky pilot," left Battle Mountain, Nev., 356 miles from San Francisco at 8:07 coast time.

FOREIGN LABOR TO BE AMERICANIZED

This is First Conclusion Announced by Senate Still Investigating Committee.

FOREIGNERS ARE ISOLATED

Kenyon's Committee May Carry Probe to Gary Where Conditions are Regarded Deplorable.

By United Press

Pittsburg, October 11.—Foreign labor must be Americanized. This is the first conclusion announced by Senator Kenyon as a result of the senate steel investigation now under way in the Pittsburg district. Efforts to pass a law which will enable every foreigner to become an American will be started at once on the committee's return to Washington, Senator Kenyon said.

Senators were astonished at the isolation of foreigners in the steel district. They visited districts where the English language is scarcely understood. "We must have the Americanization of these people. We must surround these men with good influences and teach them our ideals and language. It is the one hope," said senator Kenyon. Plans are being made to carry the steel strike investigation to Gary, Ind., if the committee can arrange to be absent from Washington long enough. It is believed that the situation there is more acute than there so far as riots and bloodshed are concerned.

No outbreaks have occurred thus far during the committee's stay here. Everywhere the strikers showed a hearty good humor and there was much joking between them and the senators. There was no sullenness when Senators asked them their grievances. All stated them frankly and without either hesitation or bitterness. Members of the committee feel that with this spirit there is little likelihood of violence.

No efforts are being made to bring the opposing sides together, Judge Gary having refused to arbitrate. The committee is sticking closely to the job of finding out the facts about the strike.

Senator Walsh, Massachusetts, was expected to join the committee here today. Both today and tomorrow will be spent hearing union and non-union employees and local business men. The committee had intended to visit Youngstown, Ohio, after the hearings here, but a wire recalling the delegation to Washington for business there Monday was received during the night by Senator Kenyon and the trip was abandoned.

LABOR'S RESOLUTION RESTS WITH CENTRAL COMMITTEE

Industrial Conference Postpones General Session Until Report is Completed.

By United Press

Washington, October 11—A fight over labor's resolution for arbitration of the steel strike was in progress today in the central committee of fifteen of the national industrial conference.

To give this committee an opportunity to decide whether the resolution shall be favorably reported to the full conference, the larger body has adjourned until Tuesday.

Many delegates returned to their homes for the week-end. The central committee is composed of five members from each of the three groups representing capital, labor and the public. The labor men on the committee, of course, favor the arbitration resolution; the employers' representatives are understood to oppose it.

Attention having been directed to the farmers by their delegates' demands for larger representation in the nation's affairs, the children's bureau of the labor department today issued a statement urging laws to regulate child labor on farms.

A COMMUNITY'S DUTY

Among the splendid suggestions made by Mr. Thomas Brooks Fletcher in his address last night was that a community interest itself in its boys and girls. The suggestion is one that ought to be given serious attention in Seymour. This city prides itself on its school system which is recognized as one of the best in the state. The public is paying thousands of dollars to equip and educate its young men for the larger activities of life, yet what are we doing to keep young men here after they are graduated? Scores of youths and young men who are ambitious and are qualified for responsible positions leave their home communities as soon as they complete their high school education. The condition is not alone found in Seymour. It is true in other cities which have not awakened to the seriousness of the situation.

If the public is to spend thousands of dollars in educating its young people why not try to interest them in their home community so that the community wherein they were educated might receive the benefit of their service. These same boys and girls are going elsewhere to accept responsible positions. All of them are not leaving home because they so desire but because they are unable to find advantages that interest them. The suggestion of the lecturer is timely. It is one that ought to receive the serious and immediate consideration of civic and commercial bodies. Many cities have already awakened to the situation and are not only keeping their own young people, but are reaching out and taking those which belong to other cities.

Local Delegates Return From New Albany Where Meeting of The Third District Was Held.

Mrs. Mary England, of this city, was elected senior vice-president of the Third district W. R. C. convention at the annual meeting which adjourned at New Albany Friday. The next meeting will be held in October 1920 in Bloomington. Among the local W. R. C. members who were present at the New Albany meeting were: Mrs. England, Mrs. Mary J. The officers elected were: President, Ora Crawford, Bloomington; senior vice-president, Mrs. England; Junior vice-president, Bessie Simpson, Salem; treasurer, Bessie Inman, Bedford; secretary, Annie Hewson, Bloomington. The various corps presented interesting reports of the work during the year. Included in the Third district are Bloomington, Bedford, Shoals, Salem, Orleans, New Albany, Jeffersonville and Seymour. Sixty delegates were present from the eight corps.

"TAG DAY" POSTPONED

Hospital Auxiliary Will Conduct Its Campaign Later.

"Tag day" which was to have been conducted today for the benefit of the hospital, was postponed and the Hospital Auxiliary under whose auspices it is to be waged, will fix a later day for the canvass. There is no question but that the response will be generous and liberal whenever the campaign is made.

By United Press
New York, October 11.—Extension of the longshoremen's strike to all foreign and coastwise shipping in Atlantic ports was ordered today by John Riley, newly elected chairman of the strike committee of the International Longshoremen's Association. The action followed refusal of the national adjustment commission of the United States shipping board to grant coastwise longshoremen the wage increase demanded.

Scouting Makes Circle Complete.

No activity is included in the Boy Scout program without a good reason; each must serve its purposes in contributing something to the character development of the boy. Scout activities and the scout oath and law are so closely interwoven that it is impossible to separate them.

The Boy Scout Movement does not interfere in any way with a boy's duties at home or in school, but it does supplement these two great training forces with a third which completes the circle. It used to be home, school, and undirected leisure. Now it is home, school and scouting. And the greatest danger point in a boy's life—his undirected leisure time—has been covered.

Schools and homes are both beginning to feel the beneficial effect of the new force which has entered the lives of hundreds of thousands of American boys.

IDEA WELL WORTH COPYING

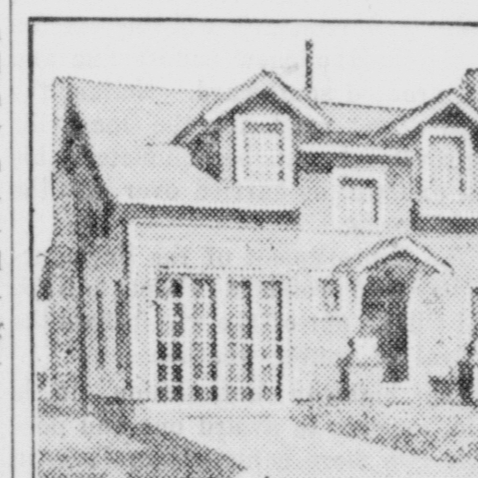

Tree-Planting Campaign Along Victory Highway in Texas Is a Step in the Right Direction.

People in other parts of the United States should find inspiration in the tree-planting campaign undertaken by the residents of Bell county, Texas. These thoughtful citizens have subscribed liberally to a fund which is being used to beautify the Temple-Bell road, or Victory highway. At every interval of thirty feet a tree is planted on either side of the road, numbered, and dedicated by the person who plants it to some Bell county soldier who fought in the great war, while a label on the tree gives the name and title of this soldier. With each tree are planted also two pecan nuts and two walnuts. If these produce seedlings, the owner of the tree may take his choice of one of these seedlings or the original tree. Here is a combination of patriotism, estheticism, and utility. The Victory highway will be useful as well as ornamental for generations to come. It will be sought by the tourist of the future not only for its beautiful shade, but out of sheer respect for the good taste and good sense of the people who designed and developed it.—Christian Science Monitor.

HOME SHOULD COME FIRST

Proper Habitations Most Important Things in the Development of a Nation Worth While.

Better homes make better people and, therefore, a better nation. Education which will bring about a general appreciation of absolute justice is the need of the world.

Centuries ago all the laws necessary for the good of mankind were summed up in ten brief clearly stated laws. Ever since that time the politicians of the world have been trying, without success, to make better laws. Laws there are without number, but not one is an improvement, not one is necessary if the original ten were generally observed.

The second is "Love thy neighbor as thyself." And in referring to the first: "On these two commandments the whole law hangeth."

Get out the Bible and read the first two and then the other eight.

Rural adornment through gardening is one way to make better homes. Give the family an attractive abiding place—outside and in. Not wealth alone can make a home. There are many attractive and beautiful homes where money is scarce. The memory of a beautiful home is a power for good as long as one of the family remains, or any who know them.

Growing things have a tendency to elevate one's thoughts and aspirations. They cause us to think of better living and show that really beautiful things may be ours for a little effort.

DON'T NEGLECT THE GARDEN

Country Will Be Benefited If Each Lot Is Made a Permanent Food Producer.

If you started a home garden last season how about making it a permanent food producer?

A bed of asparagus is known to have given continuous service for more than thirty years, and asparagus is one of the first of the spring vegetables. A row of blackberries along a garden fence has produced abundant crops for twelve successive years. A few hills of rhubarb have provided delicious sauce and helped with the making of pies season after season, with very little cost or attention. Strawberries require more care, but they furnish the first ripe fruit in the springtime, and a very small plot of ground in one corner of the garden will supply the family.

Put into a home garden a little money, knowledge gained from competent advice and your spare time. Draw from it an insight into the workings of nature, healthful exercise and a reduction in your food bills. A home garden is a good thing to keep going year after year.

Own a Home.

The Chicago real estate board has decided to launch an effort to encourage home ownership throughout the city, that Chicago may regain its title of "The City of Homes."

The department of labor at Washington is engaged in a national campaign to encourage the construction of homes for the purpose of avoiding any disarrangement of our business fabric, because of the discontinuance of war work, and to provide employment for our boys returning from the army.

The idea has been tried with astounding success in many cities. The advantage to the city as a whole, from the standpoint of better citizenship alone, is so great as to more than justify all the efforts that may be expended.

Two States Doing Well.

In Fort Wayne, Ind., the department of public works has purchased 150 trees for a memorial park and Forester Janicke informs the association that each tree is to be marked with a plate six inches long and four inches wide. Governor Goodrich of Indiana, and Richard Lieber of the forestry department are working out plans for the tree planting by counties. In Alabama John H. Wallace, Jr., the former commissioner, has organized the state by appointing county committees.

Another Nature Mistake.

"I have my back to the wall," explained the Erratic Thinker. "Not for the same reason that the Huns are fighting in that attitude, but because there is a place on my back, slightly lower than betwixt my shoulder blades, as there is on the back of every normal human being, that cannot be scratched without artificial aid. This is one of the very few grave mistakes of Nature."—Kansas City Star.

WOULD LOCALIZING MEAT TRADE PAY

Senator Currie, Stock Raiser of Nebraska, Makes Experiment.

Meat is high; the packers admit it, though they say that other foods are higher in proportion. The farmer says he is not getting too much for his cattle, in fact not enough, he says. How about numerous local slaughtering plants scattered throughout the communities of our country, or a more direct-from-farmer-to-consumer relationship?

There is almost a sentimental attractiveness about the thought, like dreams of one's boyhood home. It looks so simple. Indeed, it is simple after a fashion, and is the way most meat was handled before the industry grew to national and international proportions. But would it pay?

Tried to Build Up Local Market.

Experimentation and testing is doubtless the best teacher. And inquiring minds have not hesitated to dig into the matter. Senator F. M. Currie of Broken Bow, Neb., himself a stock raiser, relates a bit of experience of his own along this line.

He tried for years, he tells us, to establish a market for fat cattle with local butchers, invariably finding that he could not meet the price made to them by the packers.

"In other words," he says, "the packers could pay us more for our cattle on foot, and sell the product to our local butchers for less money than they (the butchers) could pay us for our cattle and slaughter the beef themselves."

During the fore part of the present year he carried his inquiry further. He shipped two carloads of cows to Omaha, and they were sold to Armour and Company for $7.90 per hundred-weight. Among these was one cow which he wished to have himself for beef. This cow weighed 840 pounds and therefore brought him $66.36. The animal was tagged and the identical carcass was shipped to him by express to Thedford, Neb., and charged to him at the prevailing wholesale price of such meat on that day in Kansas City, Omaha and Minneapolis. The carcass included carrying charges of about $3.00, cost him $60.11, or $6.25 less than he sold the animal for in Omaha.

What Cow Would Cost Consumer.

"Now," continues the Senator, "suppose a consumer in Omaha had ordered this meat direct from me, and I had slaughtered the beef at the ranch and sent the meat direct to the consumer. Taking as a basis the price received for this cow in Omaha, $66.36, less the freight of 17½ cents per hundred, it would make the cow worth on the ranch $65.00."

To this $65.00 he adds $3.00 for slaughtering at home and $8.00 for express from Thedford to Omaha, and he deducts $7.00 credit for the hide. According to these figures the dressed carcass of his cow would be worth $67.00 in Omaha, as against the packers' price of approximately $54.00 (which is derived by deducting the express charges to Thedford, $6.00, from the price the carcass was sold to him, $60.11).

Cheaper to Buy Than Kill.

"After thorough investigation," the Senator says, "I am convinced that it does not pay for us to slaughter our own meat at the ranch; that we would better ship our cattle to Omaha, and buy our beef from the packer. I have been engaged in the cattle producing business all my life; there is no particular reason why I should be friendly to the packers, but I am thoroughly convinced I am receiving, and always have received more for my cattle on foot, than if I had been able to sell direct to the consumer, and consequently the consumer has been able to buy my product for less money through the packer than under any other system which is known to business up to the present time."

SENATOR KENYON'S CONTRASTING VIEWS.

Just what is the purpose of the Kenyon bill now in hearing at Washington would be hard to deduce from Senator Kenyon's own statements. In the bill itself the purpose is set forth as follows: "To stimulate the production, sale, and distribution of live stock and live stock products, and for other purposes." This stimulation of live stock production may be well taken as a bid to the consumer to hope for lower meat prices.

But he has a different thought to present to producers. In a letter addressed recently to the Wallace Farmer he says: "I do not believe myself that the situation as to restricted consumption is going to be changed very much, and there will be the necessity of less production." Of course less production would supposedly mean higher prices for live stock, but also higher prices for meat.

Are either the general public or the farmer going to be fooled by this method of playing up the one against the other? It is not likely. Farmers and consumers are both coming to the realization that hampering the packers is not going to bring higher prices for live stock nor lower prices for meat, but quite the opposite.

Women at the Michigan Agricultural college are taking courses dealing with the methods of beautifying the farm home. A study of ornamental trees, shrubs and perennials is made, as well as the principles of grouping, arrangement, use of masses, etc.

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kerpucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINTY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city. "But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arcline and by just adding water that has been boiled make a pint of liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists" who dispense Mentholized Arcline say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin.

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

7 A DAY FOR 7 DAYS

If Your Nerves Are Shaky Because of Over-Indulgence in Tobacco or Alcohol or by Excess of Any Kind, Bio-Feren Is What You Need Right Away.

Don't grow old before your time, don't let nervousness wreck your happiness or chances in life. The man with strong, steady nerves is full of vigor, energy, ambition and confidence. You can have nerves of steel, firm step, new courage and keep mind by putting your blood and nerves in first-class shape with mighty Bio-Feren, a new discovery, inexpensive and efficient.

Men and women who get up so tired in the morning that they have to drag themselves to their daily labor will in just a few days arise with clear mind, definite purpose and loads of ambition. All you have to do is to take two Bio-Feren tablets after each meal and one at bedtime—7 a day for 7 days—then reduce to one after each meal until all are gone.

Then if your energy and endurance haven't doubled, if your mind isn't keener and eyes brighter, if you don't feel twice as ambitious as before, any druggist anywhere will return the purchase price—gladly and freely.

Bio-Feren is without doubt the grandest remedy for nervous, rundown, weak, anemic men and women ever offered and is not at all expensive. All druggists in this city and vicinity have a supply on hand—sell many packages.

"So you lost your case in court, Mr. Gloom?" said an acquaintance.

"Yes," replied J. Fuller Gloom. "And still I am not soured by it; I do not think all lawyers are dishonest. Lincoln was a lawyer, and he was honest. Rufus Choate was honest. Probably some of the signers of the Declaration of Independence were lawyers and honest. And I know the names of several other lawyers, also dead, who are honest."—Kansas City Star.

IMPORTANT PROVISION OF WAR RISK INSURANCE

Attention of Service Men is Called to Validity of Claim to Compensation.

The bureau of war risk insurance wishes to emphasize the importance to service men of one of the provisions of the war risk insurance upon the fulfillment of which may depend the validity of their claim to compensation under the Act.

The war insurance act provides that "no compensation shall be payable for death or disability which does not occur prior to or within one year after discharge or resignation from the service, except that where, after a medical examination made pursuant to regulations, at the time of discharge or resignation from the service, or within such reasonable time thereafter, not exceeding one year, as may be allowed by regulations, a certificate has been obtained from the director to the effect that the injured person at the time of his discharge or resignation was suffering from injury likely to result in death or disability."

Many discharged men are not familiar with or are inclined to disregard this provision of law and are allowing their rights thereunder to lapse.

Request for the certificate mentioned above should be made to the Chief Medical Advisor, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C.

equal suffrage and many other movements which have materialized, some of them within a few years' time. These people, he said, were characterized as foolish, yet the time has come when the public has accepted the very principles they advocated.

The speaker declared that comparatively few people read and think out great issues for themselves. They accept what others have to say about governmental and economic problems without delving into the issue themselves.

Mr. Fletcher declared that he would not consent to speak to the chamber of commerce here previous to his lecture because no one had arranged a supper or luncheon in connection with the proposed address. "I would like to come back to Seymour in 1921, but if I do I want to give two lectures," he said. He declared that from his observation Seymour is a self satisfied city and that it needs an "awakening."

The speaker advocated local censorship of motion picture shows. He said that people remember ten percent of what they read, fifteen percent of what they hear and twenty-five percent of what they see. For this reason, he declared, the public ought to be very cautious about the kind of pictures that are shown to the boys and girls.

Under the heading of the martyrdom of fools by what they do, Mr. Fletcher declared the carelessness of young men and women frequently results in ruined homes and blighted childhood. He presented several illustrations of children who because of the wrongs of their parents lived useless lives with marked and withered bodies. He said that the public is to blame for this condition in a large measure in failing to provide places of recreation for the boys of the town, where clean amusements would be held under the supervision of responsible parties. He is a strong advocate of public recreation buildings which would be thrown open to young people so that they would have no desire to become interested in the baser things of life which surround them.

Mr. Fletcher's address was filled with wit and humor. He spoke for more than two hours yet there was no evidence of restlessness among the audience. The impressive silence during his earnest discussions showed that the audience was deeply impressed with his arguments.

He was introduced by the Rev. W. E. Carroll, pastor of the Central Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holtman and son of Seymour, visited John Linkmeyer and family the past week end—Aurora Bulletin.

YOU can heat your home with a Hot Blast Air Tight Florence at a cost of from $9.00 to $15.00 for the entire season.

The same result that you get with a No. 153 Florence, heating 5 or 6 rooms with $10.00 worth of fuel would cost you, if you used artificial gas, from $200.00 to $250.00—J. B. Howard, Inventor of the Florence.

The Greatest Stove Ever Made for Burning Soft Coal, Slack, or Any Kind of Fuel

The Hot Blast Air Tight FLORENCE

For 15 Years and Is Still the Wonder of the Age as a Heating Stove

Come and let us show you the wonderful HOT BLAST AIR TIGHT FLORENCE that burns absolutely all the smoke, soot, and gas in the cheapest soft coal or slack. It will enable you to realize that you can burn the cheapest soft coal or slack with the same regularity and cleanliness as if you were burning artificial or natural gas. It will enable you to realize that you can burn the cheapest soft coal or slack without any soot accumulating in the inside of the stove, in the pipe, or in the flue. It will enable you to realize that the FLORENCE is the only absolute practical smoke consuming device or stove that has ever been created.

$5,000 Will Be Paid to any stove manufacturer or dealer who will produce a stove that will consume all the smoke or all the ingredients of Soft Coal from the moment the fire is started, outside the construction of the Florence. This offer holds good until January 1, 1920.

(Signed) J. B. HOWARD.

THE J. B. HOWARD COMBUSTION DEVICE, which is embodied in the Hot Blast Air Tight Florence, is the reason why the Florence is the only absolute smoke consuming device that has ever been constructed in the history of the burning of bituminous coal.

No Smoke! No Soot! No Dirt!

EVERYTHING CONSUMED

NO CLINKERS FROM HARD OR SOFT COAL!
ASHES AS FINE AS POWDER
THE MOST ECONOMICAL STOVE ON EARTH!

It is not the original cost of a stove, but it is what it costs to operate it that counts. The FLORENCE is an investment; it pays for itself in a very short time.

THE ONLY JOINTLESS LEG BOTTOM AND BASE

With full radiation that is on the market, or that has ever been made. The result is, as a fire keeper it will be just as good twenty-five years from now.

Remember the FLORENCE HEATS the FLOOR

Five or six feet from the stove.

If the firepot cracks in five years we will give you ONE FREE OF CHARGE. The reason for this is the Florence burns out the fuel. In all other stoves the fuel burns out the stove.

THE HOT BLAST AIR-TIGHT FLORENCE

will burn anything combustible—hard or soft coal, coal siftings, coal dust, slack coal, coke, wood, sawdust and rubbish. The fire never goes out, day or night, and a steady, even temperature may be maintained. All features are patented, and the J. B. Howard Combustion Patent, which has made the Florence famous, was sustained THREE DIFFERENT TIMES by the U. S. Courts, and any stove manufacturer, dealer or purchaser using same without proper authority will be rendering himself liable for profits and damages. It is the zenith of stove perfection—the most important stove invention of modern times.

COME AND SEE THIS WONDERFUL STOVE OPERATED

IF THE FLORENCE IS OPERATED ACCORDING TO DIRECTIONS

The No. 21 will heat one small room all winter with two tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 48 will heat two or three small rooms all winter with two and three-fourths tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 151 or No. 73 will heat three or four rooms all winter with three tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 153 or No. 75 will heat five rooms all winter with four tons of slack or lump coal.

The No. 155 or No. 77 will heat a large store or school room with six tons slack or lump coal. For a church less coal will be required.

Will burn a ton less of hard coal than a hard coal Base Burner of the same size and heat twice the space.

GERMANY RECOGNIZES DANGER OF GOVERNMENT

Leaders Realize That Confidence of Foreign Powers Must Be Restored at Once.

By United Press

Berlin—A mighty effort to destroy the Ebert-Bauer-Mueller government is under way.

The press admits it, the right and left are quite open about it, and the government itself knows that tremendous forces are pressing and pulling and hauling in a titanic effort to establish a new regime.

The government press is striving to create a sentiment for a "dictatorship of the middle parties," whilst the conservative organs quite frankly either lean for monarchy or something darkly reactionary, and the left papers are doing their utmost to restore the radicalism of last November.

At present it appears to the best observers to be more or less of a toss-up as to the source of the next coup; but there is a distinct impression that the late fall or early winter—with its critical industrial situation—will be seized upon by the malcontents of right and left as a medium for their overthrow attempts.

Erwin Barth, editor of Vorwaerts, writes in the socialist weekly, Die Glocke, "There is no man in Germany who is content with the situation, and each is right in his discontentment. We all know that, since the days of the revolution, we have day by day become poorer; that the foreign nations have no confidence in Germany; that the moral bewildering progresses daily and that dishonesty and disinclination to work control the situation both in political and economic things."

All is talk, talk, talk, according to Barth, who would see Germany devoted to upbuilding—using all the means in her power, even to brutal power, to attain the one needed end of reconstruction.

Dilating on Barth's article, the Tagliche Rundschau draws the conclusion that the upbuilding, the restoration of order, work and peace can come only from "other sides"—namely the right—rather than from the middle, which it contends, has made a failure; or from the left which participated in the November revolution.

At the same time, the Rundschau says that the left is preparing "under the eyes of the administration" to stage another revolution.

There are adequate proofs at hand that the left's method at present is a bloodless program. The communists would overturn the government through a general strike. But, the communists and the independents are divided among themselves, and are not presenting the strong front which many credit them with doing.

On the other hand, the right has gathered funds for a strong campaign. It is behind the anti-Semitic propaganda which is being used as a means of stirring up sufficient internal trouble to cause an overthrow of the government.

Meantime, the government and the proponents of a "dictatorship of the middle" are clinging on desperately, hoping to weather the winter, especially through the method of taking in the social democrats.

Use Iodine for Wounds.
A cut, a scratch, a bruise, or any similar kind of injury should be painted with iodine. As soon as injured, dip a match with cotton rolled on the end of it in the iodine and paint over the wound without washing. The iodine will kill all germs in the dirt that gets into the wound, while washing only drives the germs farther into the flesh. When painted with iodine, wrap the injured part in a clean cloth, for a couple of days.

LITTLE CHANGED BY TIME

Dwellers in Mountains of Tyrol Live in Much the Same Way as Did Their Ancestors.

The mountains of Tyrol shelter one of the few remaining unspoiled peasant people of Europe—a people that wears a native costume, remembers its folk legends and follows customs centuries old.

The mountain Tyrolese are robust, hard-working folk. Life in the mountains demands work from every member of the household from daybreak until after dark. Then, on winter nights, the Tyrolese peasants play.

Dancing is a favorite amusement after the day's work, and this is all the more surprising because the dances of Tyrol are more strenuous than those of Russia or Poland. To swing your partner up to the ceiling, and to fall down and spring up again without using the hands for support are among the "steps" of a good dancer's repertoire.

While the dancing couple excitedly swing and caper, the others sing and play the zither, the favorite Tyrolese musical instrument. Original songs are in high favor, and also the old folk songs of princes and peasants, shepherdesses and huntsmen. The peasants sing lustily and well. Only a realization of tomorrow's work puts an end to the affair, and sends guests trooping home still whistling or humming the last song.

Doctrines.

"Do you believe in the doctrine of metempsychosis?"

"I refuse to be diverted," replied Senator Sorghum. "One doctrine at a time is enough and just now I'm engaged in sticking up for the Monroe doctrine."

Beginning, Not Quitting.

"Guess I'll quit work and go fishing," said the man.

"John," said the wife, "if you dig your own bait and honestly try to catch fish, it'll be the hardest work you've done in many a day."

HAD DECIDEDLY WRONG IDEA

Miss Simpkins' Trouble Was Not With Her Heart, as Drug Clerk Had Imagined.

Miss Simpkins was a lady of uncertain appearance and age, and rather frightened. De Vere, who was a young assistant in a druggists' shop, by her persistent demonstration of friendship, he flattered himself that every girl and woman fell madly in love with him. He felt sure she meant to hook him. But chance threw them alone one day, and De Vere felt that his day had come.

"Mr. De Vere," she said, "I can no longer bear this unspeakable anguish. I have at last plucked up courage to ask you a question which concerns my future happiness and comfort. Will you be—"

"My dear lady," gasped De Vere, breaking out in a cold perspiration, "it would break my heart to refuse. I have every regard and respect for—"

"Sir! What do you mean?" gasped Miss Simpkins. "Surely you can't object to my asking what cure you can recommend?"

WEDDING HAS BEEN PUT OFF

For What He Considers Good and Sufficient Reasons Mr. Meek Has Decided to Wait.

"I must tell you frankly, Mr. Meek, that my consent to your marrying my daughter has been wrung from me under protest," said the lady, assuming a belligerent expression.

"I knew that if I did not consent she would disgrace the family by an elopement. When she wants anything, we all have to give in to her, or take the consequences; and long experience has taught me that I might as well try to fan off a cyclone as reason with her when she loses her temper, especially if there is a flat-iron or a rolling-pin handy, and so I just give in at once. Has the wedding day been fixed yet, Mr. Meek?"

Mr. Meek—Um-er, not yet; and, in fact, madam, I'm—I'm a little afraid I can't afford to marry very soon, anyhow. Goo-good-day.

Huns' Savage Crime.

Among the many crimes with which the Germans are charged is that of the destruction of religious monuments, and everywhere in the devastated districts are graves which have been violated and vaults which have been burst open. One of the cemeteries which has suffered the greatest damage lies high on a hill above a little town not very far from Paris. Here the work of destruction was carried out by aerial torpedoes, five of which were fired. Not one missed its mark. Monumental crosses are heaps of twisted iron and broken stone, and at the points where the torpedoes exploded nothing remains but deep holes.

Belated Proof.

"I see where I was severely wounded in the war," remarked a discharged soldier.

"Are you just now finding that out?"

"Of course not, but it's some satisfaction to have a casualty list in my home paper corroborate the statements I've been making for six months to friends and members of my family."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

No Spare Time.

"He bought a motorboat to occupy his spare time."

"Now?"

"Now he's so busy trying to get the thing in shape to run that he never has any spare time to go riding in it."

What Happened to Kitty.

Grandma had come for a long visit and mother went to the city for a week, leaving the children in grandma's care. On the second day of her absence Paul was restless, and the others were at school, and he wanted some one to play with.

"Why don't you play with that cute little kitten you had when I was here last?" asked grandma.

"I ain't got no little kitten," answered Paul.

"Mercy me! What's happened to him? Did he run away or get killed?"

"Nope, he ain't killed or lost; he's grown into a cat."

Common Sense View.

"Do you know what is meant by bolshevism?" asked the contentions man.

"Not exactly," answered Mr. Glipping.

"Then, how can you say you are opposed to it?"

"Well, I don't exactly understand the mechanism of a buzz-saw, but I have sense enough to let it alone."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Still at War.

Willis—Do you think we are going to have any trouble with the demobilization?

Gillis—I'm afraid so. My wife thus far has refused to give up her rolling pin and flatiron.—Judge.

Identification.

"Why do you insist on calling the seventeen-year locust a bolshevik?"

"Because he answers the description—a noisy non-producer with a ravenous appetite."

EAST INDIAN WATER MONITOR

Reptile, Harmless in Itself, Is Used by the Singhalese to Brew Most Deadly Poison.

The water monitor is one of the standbys of the citizens of India, Ceylon and the Malay peninsula and Dutch East Indies, although it is a reptile of no beneficent appearance, with its long forked tongue, extending from a sheath like unto a snake's. It is one of the largest of existing lizards, reaching a length of seven feet, although its nearest relative, the gigantic Australian monitor, grows from 12 to 30 feet long. The monitor lays 20 or more white, soft-shelled eggs in hollow trees, and in Burmah these bring a much higher price than hen's eggs, according to the Scientific American.

It is a swift runner, able to overtake the speediest mammals, frogs, turtles and snakes, on which it feeds. It climbs trees for squirrels, birds and their eggs. At other times it may be found digging along stream banks for the eggs of the crocodile, of which it is most fond. If surprised when up a tree, it drops into the water, swimming with powerful strokes of its flattened tail which acts as oars and rudder. When being captured it fights with teeth, claws and tail.

The natives term the monitor "Kabar-Goya." Although it is harmless and non-poisonous, it is used to produce deadly poisons. The Singhalese are experts in brewing a deadly poison termed "Kabarattel." They extract poisons from venomous snakes, adding arsenic and other drugs, boiling the combination in human skulls. And here the monitor comes in as a part of their superstition. They tie three monitors on three sides facing the fire. Then they torment the monitors with whips and make them hiss to cause the fire to blaze up. You and I would take a belovos for this purpose, but the natives believe that the hiss of the monitors adds to the poisonous quality of the deadly brew.

Choosing His Career.

Billy's playmates and boon companions are Eugene and Gladys. Billy is one of those little chaps that look ahead and arrange things for the future. And this is Billy's future:

"Eugene and I are going to marry Gladys," said Billy the other day. "But I won't be around home much. I'll be away most of the time playin' golf."

A Dreadful Ordeal.

"I'll bet you're glad to get home from the war."

"I thought I would be, but I wish now I were back again in the trenches."

"Why?"

"I'm scared to death. Everywhere I go people want me to make speeches about the war."

In Doubt.

"How's your garden getting along?"

"If the green things coming up are flowers, it's fine; if they're weeds, it's terrible."

WILSON TO REMAIN IN BED FOR "EXTENDED PERIOD"

However Grayson's Bulletin Announces "Signs of Improvement" Continue.

By United Press

Washington, October 11—President Wilson will be forced to remain in bed for "an extended period," it was announced at the White House this afternoon. Dr. Grayson made this announcement in his regular daily bulletin of the president's condition. The bulletin said:

"The president shows signs of continued improvement, but this condition is such as to necessitate remaining in bed for an extended period."

This statement came as a surprise inasmuch as the impression had been created that Wilson was so improved he might be able to leave his bed and resume his automobile rides. During the last forty-eight hours he has been informed slightly of affairs of state, getting information through Dr. Grayson.

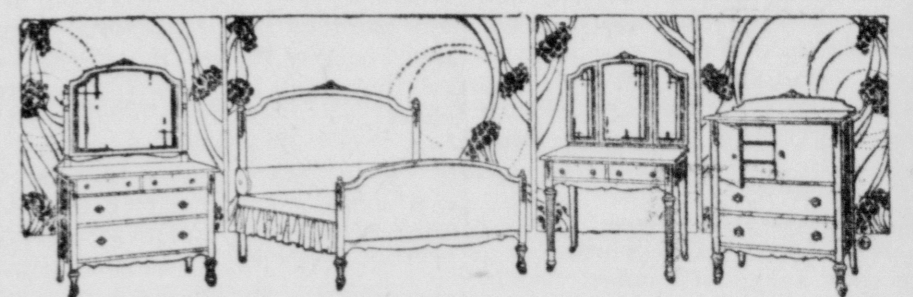

Leonard Henderson of Indianapolis, came today to be the guest of Mrs. Henry Kasting and family. Mrs. Henderson and son, Thyrlie, who have been visiting here, will return home Sunday evening with Mr. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Dickerson of West Liberty, Ill., who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sipes and family, near Crothersville, and other relatives in this county, returned to their home this morning.

Harmony.
It is a beautiful and blessed world we live in. The flowers blossom in obedience to the same law that keeps the stars in their places. Each bird song is an echo of the universal harmony. It is humanity which thrusts discord, and false and jarring notes into the days. We go out into the beautiful morning carrying our useless loads of frets and worries, our left-over resentments and our faithless fears. The sunshine assures us that the world is still moving safely in its appointed course and God has not forgotten us; the birds lift their cheering notes of rejoicing that they have found food for the day, but we lift complaining voices because we have not found provisions for years to come. Our moody spirits and jarring tempers hurt the love on earth and in heaven. But they hurt our own souls most of all, for they put us out of tune with the music of the universe.

Success.
The great highroad of human welfare lies along the old highway of steadfast well-doing; and they who are the most persistent, and work in the truest spirit, will invariably be the most successful; success treads on the heels of every effort.—S. Smiles.

Honest Prayer.
We must be often, and alone, with God, and there at his feet we must pour out our hearts and ask his richest blessing upon our unaided endeavor. "To pray," says Fenelon, "is to desire; but it is to desire what God would have us desire. He who desires not, from the bottom of his heart, offers a deceitful prayer."

The Secret of Comfort.
The chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex us, and in prudently cultivating our undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas! are let on long leases.—Sharp.

Love Thy Neighbors.
I would tear out my own heart if it had no better disposition than to love only myself, and laugh at all my neighbors.—Pope.

Live by the Day.
The secret of a sweet and Christian life is learning to live by the day. It is the long stretches that tire us.

A Hope Begun.
Immortality does not consist of an argument completed, but in a hope begun.—Newell Dwight Hillis.

What We Will and Must.
There is no contending with necessity, and we should be very tender how we censure those that submit to it. "Tis one thing to be at liberty to do what we will, and another thing to be tied up to what we must.—L'Estrange.

When Life Grows Broader.
God does not count prosperity as we count it. Our sense of proportion is largely shaped by our experiences. When life is quiet and sheltered, and the stream runs smoothly, we notice every ripple and magnify every small obstruction. We are fully occupied with our work, our small worries. Then comes some grief, calamity, or new responsibility which suddenly changes everything. Our old interests are dwarfed and look so petty that we wonder that we ever allowed such trifles to burden our souls. By such experiences life grows broader and higher and takes on new values. We have new standards of measurement for our fellow men as well as ourselves.

Love Endureth All Things.
Love beareth all things, believeth all things, endureth all things. People we love sometimes disappoint us. They do things we never dreamed they could do. If we love them, we shall not abandon them because they have faults. We shall just believe that one day they will put away their faults, cease to do evil, and learn to do well. Love never despairs of anyone. Love never faileth.

Of One Religion.
All humble, meek, merciful, just, pious, and devout souls are everywhere of one religion, and when death has taken off the mask they will know one another, though the divers lives they wear make them strangers.—Penn.

When to Begin Kind Acts.
A more glorious victory cannot be gained over another man than this, that when the injury began on his part, the kindness should begin on ours.—Tillotson.

Preaching the Gospel.
If the church is to reach the masses of the people it will have to send, as did the prophets and apostles, fit men to tell the glorious gospel of the grace of God. What is more, those who cannot do this work will have to support and encourage those who can. The marching orders of the church are: "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

"For Thee."
With all the salvation of the world depending upon him, he has time and thought for each individual soul. Think of the vastness of his cares! yet the body of our Lord Jesus Christ was given for thee.—Selected.

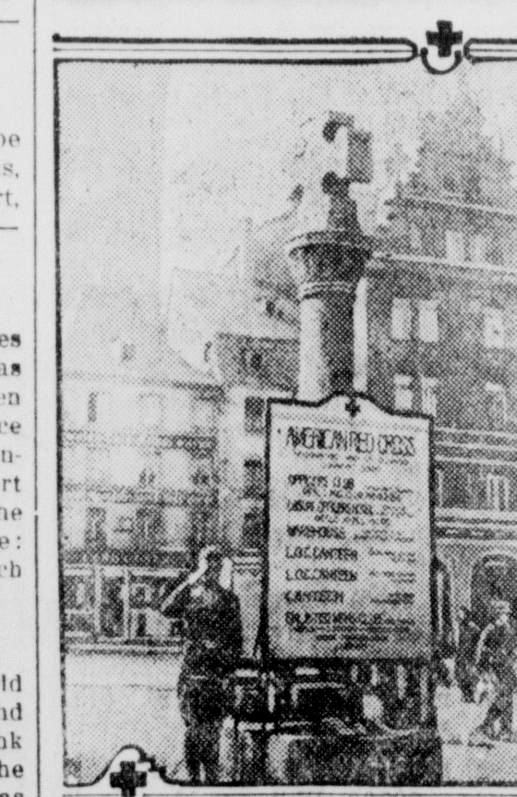

Contagion of Heaven.
There ought to be such an atmosphere in every Christian church that a man going and sitting there should take the contagion of heaven, and carry home a fire to kindle the altar whence he came.—H. W. Beecher.

The Bible.
God might, of course, have given us a literally divine book, written by his finger on tables of stone. We find that he chose to give us instead a library of books by human authors, with very different styles and characteristics. I cannot help connecting it with the equally obvious fact that he did not reveal himself by an angel, or millions of angels, but by a man who worked in a carpenter's shop.—Rev. J. H. Moulton, D.D.

Cheerfulness.
Better to be small and shine, than to be great and cast a shadow. Cheerfulness is God's medicine. Everybody ought to bathe in it. Grim care, anxiety and all the rest of life can be scoured off with the oil of cheerfulness.

Church Must Be Democratic.
An undemocratic church in a democratic age is an anachronism, and no matter how ancient her lineage, or well established her historic position, unless she is in close and sympathetic touch with those great world movements she is doomed to defeat and to spiritual deadness and decay.—Bishop Guerry.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.
On German Soil.

In the City Square of Treves, Germany, headquarters of the allied military forces, an ancient cross surmounted monument marks the city's center of traffic. For this reason American Red Cross officials converted it, as shown by this picture, into a directory of all Red Cross activities in the city.

Can Anyone Know?

By REV. W. W. KETCHUM
Director of the Evening Classes,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life; even unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God.—1 John 5:13 R. V.

Can anyone know in this life whether or not he is eternally saved?

This certainly is an important thing to know, if it can be known.

The Bible, the theme of which is salvation, gives this information. If anyone, desiring to know whether he is eternally saved, will go to the Bible, it will tell him, for it speaks in unmistakable terms.

First of all, the Bible states plainly that all people of whatever race or class are lost.

This message of the Bible is resented by many, but why should we resent knowing the truth about ourselves, especially since God, who tells us we are lost, also tells us that he has made provision whereby we may be saved? Is it not better that we know our actual condition than to go on in ignorance of it? If we know we are lost, and also know there is salvation for the lost, then we may be saved if we desire.

If for a single moment you doubt that all men are lost, I would ask you to read the third chapter of Romans, and find out just what God says is the actual condition of all men. The teaching of this chapter in Romans, which is confirmed by other portions of the Word of God, gives the plain, unvarnished truth concerning this matter. It should stir us to the very depths of our beings, and would leave us in hopeless despair if God did not at once tell us that he has graciously provided, in the Lord Jesus Christ, salvation for all men, and that they may be saved if they will take Christ as their Savior.

In the next place the Bible makes a clear distinction between people who have taken Christ by faith as their Savior and those who have not done so.

It says of those who have failed to make Christ their Savior that because of this failure, since they are afflicted with sin, they shall perish. What could be plainer concerning this than the statement of our Lord himself, spoken to those who have not settled this momentous question, "Unless ye repent ye shall all likewise perish;" or this one, "He that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on him."

You see, the Bible does not leave anyone, who has not taken the Lord Jesus Christ as his personal Savior, in doubt for a moment as to whether or not he is saved, but plainly tells him that he is lost.

Now what does the Bible say of that person who has by faith accepted the Lord Jesus Christ as his Savior? Does it say of him that he is eternally saved, or does it leave him in doubt? Logically, if the one who has not taken Christ as his Savior is eternally lost, then conversely it is true that the one who has taken Christ as his Savior is eternally saved. But does the Bible teach this, and does it as plainly give the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ the assurance of his salvation, as it gives the unbeliever the assurance that he is lost? It certainly seems reasonable that if one who fails to accept Christ as his Savior can know he is eternally lost, the one who accepts Christ as his Savior should be able to know he is eternally saved. This is precisely what our text says the believer may know: "These things have I written unto you—that ye may know," not hope, nor feel, but "know that ye have eternal life."

Numerous passages in the Word of God substantiate this teaching, and it is only because we have hearts of unbelief that we ever doubt it. It is so wonderful, and it seems too good to be true, that God should eternally save those who accept Christ as their personal Savior. But it is true just the same, for God has said it, and he cannot lie.

It is a marvel of God's grace that the believer in the Lord Jesus Christ at once has eternal life (John 8:16); that he passes at once from death unto life, and that he shall not come into judgment (John 5:24). God who saves has promised to finish the job, and has made provision to do so. It is not for us, if we really have appropriated Christ as our Savior, to doubt that God will faithfully finish our salvation; but as Paul tells the Philippians (Phil. 1:6), so should we be confident of this very thing, "that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ."

EMMANUEL SAID TO HAVE THREATENED TO ABDICATE

Rumor Declares That Italian Army and Navy Persist in Supporting D'Annunzio.

By United Press
London, October 11—The Rome correspondent of the Morning Post reports he has learned from a reliable source that King Emmanuel has threatened to abdicate if the army and navy persist in supporting D'Annunzio at Fiume. The correspondent denies the report that D'An-nunzio has been assassinated.

An Italian dispatch to the Daily Mail declared that the general in command of the Florence army corps has resigned after issuing a manifesto divesting himself of his oath of loyalty to the king and has joined D'Annunzio's forces at Fiume. He was appointed to command the military forces there, according to the dispatch.
